LIONS SPONSOR BIG RALLY TONIGHT

Use Two Gyms For Santa Ana-Fullerton Dance

COLLEGIATE ORCHESTRA OF CARLETON SMITH PLAYS AT SOCIAL TOMORROW EVENING

Color Scheme For Annual Football Dance Kept Secret By Social Commissioner Arundell; Decorations In Charge Of Various J. C. Service Clubs

Miss Marjorie Arundell, social commissioner, today announced that both main and auxiliary floors have been secured for the big Thanksgiving dance tomorrow night in Andrews gymnasium, where Associated Students of Santa Ana will compliment Associated Students of Fullerton in a return football dance which promises to be the most elaborate affair on the 1931-32 social calendar.

The dance is an annual affair, climaxing the football meeting between Santa Ana and Fullerton. In 1929 Santa Ana entertained in Andrews gymnasium, and in 1930 Fullerton returned the compliment by staging a dance which topped all others in the matter of attendance and brilliance.

Smith Orchestra
Carleton Smith and his eight-piece orchestra, past performers at Santa Ana college social affairs, will furnish the music tomorrow evening, and will strike up the first tune at 8:45 p. m., according to Miss Arundell.

The Sisterhood of Spinners, oldest women's service club, has charge of main gym decorations, while the Las Gitanas will decorate the auxiliary gym. The color scheme, an elaborate and original one, will be kept secret until tomorrow night. Colored lights are promised.

Refreshments of punch and wafers will be served throughout the evening by members of the Las Meninas service club. The check room will be in charge of the Moavs, another women's service organization. Guest tickets for the affair were granted at Monday's meeting of the Executive Board.

Another Service Club For Jaycee Men Established

"Ship ahoy! There's work to be done!" That is why the Buccaneers, a new men's service club, has been organized to aid activities in the college and to promote close fellowship among the members.

Officers in first ship order are Captain and adviser, T. E. Williams, instructor of printing; skipper, Kenneth Eastman; first mate, Deane Hyatt; keeper of the log, William Beeman; keeper of the booty, Russell Koons; and bos'n, William Kissinger.

Botany Classes In Gardens Excursion

Botany classes, under J. Russell Bruff, participated in an informal excursion of neighboring gardens Thursday morning during the first period.

The class could be seen straggling along several streets in the vicinity of the campus and gathering around Mr. Bruff with notebooks handy.

GITANAS CLUB GIVES BRIDGE

Turn Proceeds Of Benefit To J. C. Loan Fund

More than 100 persons are expected to attend the benefit bridge party to be held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealey. The affair is being sponsored by Las Gitanas club members, and all proceeds will be used to increase the Student Loan fund.

Cooperation of all men's and women's service clubs of the college has been pledged and the event is expected to be one of the highlights of the school year. Possibility that the party will be made an annual event to be sponsored by the Gitanas was indicated by Velma Bishop, president of the organization.

Dean McKee Fisk in a message to students today urged that hearty support be given the project in view of the present economic condition which has caused an emergency making a drain on the funds unusually heavy this year. The Orange County Folies presented by students of high schools of the county last year, was devoted to interests of the fund.

The benefit Monday will mark the first attempt of junior college students to make an organized drive for the fund, and student officials are

FOUR COMPETE IN FORENSICS

Two Teams From Santa Ana In Redland's Meet

Four students of the Santa Ana junior college will travel to the University of Redlands December 5 to compete in a debate tournament which has more than 50 Southern California junior college institutions entered.

Santa Ana will enter two teams, composed of Lewis Bates and Martha Spaulding, Morris Singer and Clifford Hannah. "That Congress should enact legislation providing for the central control of industry, constitutionally waived" will be the question. Ten junior colleges throughout this section have made reservations.

In January Chaffey junior college sends its debate team to Santa Ana to argue with one of the Don teams, while San Bernardino junior college plays host to Santa Ana's other debating squad. These two debates will be held on or about January 15.

Lewis Bates, commissioner of forensics, has arranged practice contests with Citrus, Compton, Los Angeles, and Redlands. This program offers a good opportunity for students interested in forensics, Bates says. Sheldon M. Hayden, forensics adviser, urged all interested in debating to see him immediately.

Geology Students Visit Lava Flows In Mojave Desert

Geology students under Horace A. Scott, instructor, returned late Saturday night from a visit to Amboy, the Bristol dry lake, and the Pisgah lava flow regions of the Mojave Desert. They left Santa Ana Friday at 3:00 p. m. and traveled to Amboy, where they spent the night.

Saturday morning the geologists went to Bristol dry lake, where they collected specimens of natural rock salt crystals, gypsum, and calcium chloride. After studying how these minerals were deposited on the lake floor, they journeyed to Amboy crater, here they studied the building of it, the effects of erosion on it, and its eruptions. Journeying to the Pisgah lava flows, they explored the lava caves with which that region abounds, and studied the conduct of the last lava flows. Desert basins and the effect of water on arid regions was subsequently discussed, and the students left for Santa Ana.

Members of Geology 1A, 1B, and 2 classes who made the trip are Clifford Bates, Harold Case, Irvin Couse, Miss Eleanor Crill, Gordon Cudworth, John Doubenmier, John Green, Miss Dulcie Green, Anna Hull, Harold Koenig, Helen McArthur, Rupert McArthur, Henry Onstad, Chester Poor, Horace Ritner, James Tawney, Thomas Tedford, William Williams, Richard Stafford, Burt Winslow and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Scott.

BULLETIN

Seats for tomorrow's football game between Santa Ana and Fullerton will not be reserved. Tell your friends to come early. First come, first served!

Varied Program For Show Patrons Given Dean Fisk's Home

Several students attended the Asilomar group meeting held at the home of Dean McKee Fisk, 911 W. Fourth Street, Sunday evening, November 22.

According to many, Asilomar is the finest experience of the college year. Near Monterey Bay, among the pines and the sand dunes, it gives an opportunity for fellowship, inspiration, recreation, music, reading and stimulation along the lines of the finest modern living college students from Arizona, California, Hawaii, Nevada, New Mexico, and West Texas have been enjoying these conferences for thirty-two years.

"I wouldn't trade my Asilomar experience for a semester of college", and "I look back to Asilomar as the first high 'spot' in my college career" are some quotations from students who have attended Asilomar.

Rev. Lawson Watkins of the First Methodist Church of Tustin says, "The Asilomar Conference of the Y. M. C. A. is one of the high water marks in the Christian experience of any participant. The fellowship is along the lines of the idealism of Jesus and is in miniature what we should imagine the world to be if the spirit of Jesus were applied to every walk of life. There is tolerance, a kindness, and a spirit of high spiritual seeking that can not be excelled in any other conference. Personally, the experience that I have ever had. Don't miss Asilomar".

The leaders at Asilomar this year are: Howard Thurman, Negro Minister and Educator, Dr. Paul Popenoe, author, Biologist and Eugenist, Dr. Allan Hunter, Student Leader and Minister, and Dr. Karl S. Knopf.

POLE RUSH BETWEEN SOPHS AND FROSH ADDS INTEREST TO FOOTBALL CELEBRATION

Birch And Amherst Road Is Bonfire Scene; President Jim Thompson Of Junior Lions Urges Students To Form Caravan On Walnut Street Early

With the caustic taste of defeat from last year burning their mouths, sophomores of the Santa Ana junior college today were giving the freshmen fair warning in their announcements of "Freshmen Beware! We're out to win that pole rush and tug-o-war at the big bonfire rally tonight." The freshmen, in response, it has been reported, are planning to duplicate their 1930 victory.

Best J. C. Guessers Will Be Given Loge At Pavilion

Through the courtesy of the Orange County dance pavilion, located on the state highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana, El Don is sponsoring a guessing contest for tomorrow's football game between Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges.

The two closest guesses as to the outcome of the Thanksgiving Day game will entitle the winners to loge buttons at the dance pavilion.

All guesses must be turned in at the El Don office today, Wednesday, to either Paul Wright, editor, or Bob Durbin, sports editor. Turn in the following slip:

NAME .....
My guess is: Santa Ana.....
Fullerton.....

College Caravan

From Jim Thompson, president of the Junior Lions, organization sponsoring the big event tonight, comes the announcement that the caravan will form in front of the college building and will leave at 6:45 p. m. for a parade through town. The bonfire, to be held at Birch and Amherst Road, Santa Ana, will be touched off at 7:10 p. m. Everyone is urged to be prompt and a lot of noise, pep, and enthusiasm is expected.

The pole rush will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will be followed by the tug-o-war. Short speeches will be given by Coach Bill Cook, Captain Mike Santa Cruz, and George Griffith, president of the Associated Students. (Continued on page 4)

Organize College Student Tutoring

Of outstanding importance to students who are having difficulty with their studies is the announcement of a student tutoring association which has been organized. Keith Beisel has been named business manager of the organization.

English, Journalism, French, Spanish, German A and mathematics are the subjects which will be included. Although more students may join the organization, the list of tutors at present is as follows: Glover Hendrickson, Everard Stovall, Ernest Thacker, Stephen Reyes, Manuela Ponce, Katherine Gorath, Keith Beisel, and Mary Mateer.

Any one who wishes to be tutored in any course should leave his name with the instructor of that class or should leave a note for Mr. Beisel on the bulletin board.

All prospective tutors are fully accredited students who have been approved by the faculty. Except where a preference is expressed, assignments will be made by the business manager.

BULLETIN

All men of the college wishing to earn their Associated Student ticket please get in touch with George Griffith today.

Good Attendance Features Dinner By Y.W.C.A. Club

Approximately 100 students attended the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. joint dinner meeting held through the courtesy of the women at the city Y.W.C.A. Monday night. Dr. Regina Westcott, of Occidental College, gave an interesting talk on "Getting the Most Out of Life", which proved of interest to those attending.

The program was planned by Velma Bishop, chairman. A piano solo was played by Carolyn Mueller, and a flute solo by Joanna Day with Velma Bishop as accompanist featured the musical offering of the evening.

Name Selected For Inland Conference

"The Orange Empire Conference" was the name chosen for the new Eastern division of the Southern California junior college conference at a meeting of officials in Ontario last week.

E. W. Spring, president of the Chaffey junior college, was elected president of the new conference, while McKee Fisk, dean of Santa Ana junior college, was chosen secretary. In addition to the elections held, plans for basketball were presented and a schedule adopted.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Remember The Sturdy Pioneers!

Thanksgiving! Mm-Mm-Mm. That means turkey, cranberry sauce, dressing, pumpkin pie, and whipped cream. That is, tomorrow recalls these items to everyone, but there is undoubtedly that class of eccentric beings who think equally as much about a sturdy race of pioneers who made it possible for us to be here today thinking about turkey and everything.

Undoubtedly the attitude of self-satisfaction so lavishly indulged in by the average American is the cause for rather unfavorable opinion which foreigners possess about us in matters of festive observance. The man, woman, and child across the sea always consider the intrinsic object of the holiday before the materialistic. Of course, they celebrate and feast, but in doing so they also remember the day's significance.

Please let us not forget our forefathers and the debt we owe them, and in preparing for tomorrow remember that we are honoring them by displaying our best holiday spirit.

Something Of Which To Be Proud

One of Santa Ana junior college's outstanding characteristics is that overwhelming interest which students display in regard to extra-curricula activities.

The college can point with pride to the fact that campus organizations already have begun talking up their candidates for the coming elections in February. Unusual interest is being manifested in the presidential race. For the past four semesters the college has had a high type of student president; all four officials have worked diligently and sympathetically. Even the minor incidents of student government have not been overlooked. And—

For this reason, certain factions have gone to work and are studying the qualifications of various students. The spirit current among campus organizations this semester is indicative of another highly organized government in February. Are you among this high-spirited group of students? If not, why not?

Accumulation is Very Mystifying

Newspapers recently told about Dr. Leopold Bauer of Austria depositing a shilling worth 25 cents in the bank of England at London, with the announcement that his will would contain the provision that the shilling should remain in the bank at interest for 500 years.

This seems at first glance to be an irrational act, but on considering the thought, there penetrates your brain the idea that the doctor had an objective. Perhaps he wished to show the world just how valuable the accumulation of anything, no matter how small, is worth.

A certain gentleman, intrigued by the plan, went into a huddle with himself and emerged with this declaration: "At the end of the allotted time the total deposit from the shilling would be 4,051 octillions, 5111 septillions, 872 sextillions, 311 quintillions, 717 quadrillions, 764 trillions; and so on down the list until $323.23 cents was reached."

Demaris: "Why did you buy that referee's whistle?"
Aggie: "I have a date with a football player tonight."

Student (reading Latin translation): "I went up to her, put my arms around her—" and that's as far as I got."

Teacher: "That's far enough."

He: "I think she's as pretty as she can be!"
Another he: "Well, you know most girls are nowadays."

Teacher: "What's the interest on a thousand dollars for one year at two percent? Ikey, pay attention!"
Ikey: "For two percent I'm not interested."

BIRCH AND AMHERST road. Yes, ladies and gentlemen, that is the scene for tonight's rally. Those who were in junior college last year should know how to get there; the 1930 celebration was staged at Birch and Amherst too. For the benefit of the freshmen, the following directions are given: Go out South Main street to the Dubois Furniture company, turn right for three blocks, and there you are! But, wait a moment! Why should we go to the trouble of giving out directions, when all that a student must do is to turn out for tonight's caravan, which will be formed at 6:45 p.m. The caravan, of course, will be headed for the bonfire scene. By all means, turn out tonight. If convenient, bring her along with you.

CAST YOUR EYES upon this quotation from a recent issue of the Phi Theta Kappa bulletin: "Some people have a lot of difficulty in finding things for which to be thankful. Others seem to be thankful all the time. The strange thing is that he ex-plantation is not that those who are thankful are the ones who have none of this world's goods to speak of, and those who are thankful have a bountiful supply—not at all. Some of the worst scynies we have ever know were well to do. "QUEER, isn't it?" There are so many things for which one can be thankful that the ungrateful should be run out of town on a rail. Then, the grateful would have just one more thing for which to be thankful.

STUDENTS WISHING jobs should see M.V. Newcomer or Miss Dorothy Decker, faculty members. Those who really need work will be given first preference. The faculty can offer all kinds of work in limited amounts.

WELL, WELL, WELL! The long-discussed name on Poly's scoreboard has been changed. Thanks very much!

STUDENT COMMENT

Should a college library contain only reference books, periodicals, and a few literary creations intended for the serious-minded minority, or should it also contain a collection of the more popular books which might occasionally give the average student more pleasurable reading?

As it is now, students consider the library merely as a study hall and as a place where they might locate some reference book required for an assignment. This is not entirely as it should be. While the library should carry all available information necessary for the work of the students, it also should offer some inducement towards lighter reading.

Many students come to Santa Ana junior college from small towns near by which have small if any public libraries. By having light literature in our own library, these students would be able to get such books much more easily, and these popular novels will acquaint all students with modern literature and authors. Why not? Its being done elsewhere. Signed—James Goodfellow.

VERY OLD INDEED!

Most students think that football is the sport of the moderns. It is a fact that 1928 years ago the first change in football rules was made.

Emperor Augustus of Rome ordered that the game as it was played then should be changed so that it would be rougher. He considered it too mild a game to train good soldiers. The Celts played football with the head of one of their enemies. Of course, the game was not played with as complicated rules as in 1931.

In the early days of England, whole townships took part in football games, but often the ball was forgotten while the players chased each other through the houses and held free-for-all fights. Although this game was forbidden by the kings of that time, it was so popular that games were played anyway, and many people were killed.

Modern football is considered rough; compare it with the old games and be glad that it has met with revisions.

1000 YEARS FROM NOW

It is predicted that there will be wide spread changes in the manner of living. Here are some of the forecasts:

A gentleman on awakening in America wishes to communicate with his wife at Rome, Italy. He turns on a transmitter and immediately is able to see and speak to her. Then the husband, at the call of his daily work, springs from bed and enters his mechanic dresser. Two minutes later the machine deposits him all dressed at the threshold of his office.

Perhaps this man is the editor of a flourishing newspaper; so he inspects his staff. It may be interesting to note the function of a daily in 2889. Instead of being printed, the news will be spoken to subscribers, who will learn items of interest through conversations with reporters, statesmen, and scientists, etc. Furthermore, each subscriber will own a recording machine in 2889, and this instrument will have the task of gathering the news when he is not in a mood to listen directly.

To continue briefly the tour of inspection, the editor finds the staff working satisfactorily except in the astronomy department, where difficulty is being experienced in communicating with the Moon and Jupiter for the latest news. Continuing: The rich class will live in only one room, for automatic devices can make tables, beds, or bath tubs appear at will.

One of the radical changes of the period is that by the aid of solar and terrestrial accumulators and transformers, all seasons may be made the same. This invention will enable the North and South poles to be reduced to an inhabitable temperature. If you don't believe these things will happen 900 or more years from now, just wait and find out!

POPULAR U. S. CAPITOL

It is estimated that every year there are more than 5,000,000 visitors to see the capitol of the United States.

One of the main attractions is the National museum, which contains 13,000,000 different specimens. Because it is impossible to see all of these collections, the most interesting ones have been properly labeled and arranged so that visitors may view them.

The most popular single object this vast museum contains is the Spirit of St. Louis, the single motor, monoplane in which Col. Charles A. Lindbergh made his lonely nonstop flight from New York to Paris on May 20 and 21, 1927.

Second in popular interest is the "Costume Hall of Fame." The dresses once worn by the "First Ladies" of the land adorn comely plaster figures. The features of all the figures are the same, but the hair is arranged to represent the coiffures of the different periods.

Having a costume hall was the idea of a Washington woman, who with the cooperation of her friends has found many unique costumes for this purpose.

Some of the most beautiful gowns belonged to Mrs. George Washington, Dolly Madison, Eliza Kortright Monroe, Maria Hester Monroe, Mary Todd Lincoln, Julia Gardiner Tyler, Angelica Singleton Van Buren and Sarah Childress Polk.

Mr. Siracusa (who has caught Dante smoking): "Smoking, hey!"
Dante: "No, sir; tobacco."

HISTORY OF HOLIDAY

We like to think of Thanksgiving day as being truly an American holiday not borrowed from an ancient custom of the old world.

Thanksgiving for the "fruit of the land" dates back to biblical times. It was one of the principal festivals of the Jews and was called the Feast of Tabernacle.

In ancient Greece this celebration was called the Thesmophoria which was the feast of Demetre the goddess of harvest. It was celebrated in Athens in a very unique way. Two wealthy married women were chosen to perform certain rites and prepare a sacred meal which corresponds somewhat to our Thanksgiving dinner.

Ceres was the name of the Roman harvest deity and their ceremonials were concluded with a feast of Thanksgiving.

England called this celebration Harvest Home, while in Scotland it was known as the Kern. In England feast days became so numerous that perhaps the real spirit of Thanksgiving was lost for it is recorded that the austere souls of the Puritans were shocked by these autumnal festivities, but when they fled to Holland they respected their religious feast days and often gave thanks with the Dutch.

The beginning of the real Thanksgiving day came from the heart and mind of the first governor of Plymouth. After the grapes were sweet and purple, the corn husked and the golden pumpkin stored for the cold winter ahead; when the red apples were gathered and the cider was all made, Governor Bradford through gratefulness for this rich harvest gave the first Thanksgiving proclamation.

Many interesting stories are told of this first day which lengthened into three. It is said that Elder Brewster's sermon in the church took the best part of three hours. But the dinner that followed offset any criticism of the time spent in worship. Psalm singing was mingled with the cries of the Indians. Military drills by Miles Standish's soldiers and war dances by the Indians were also popular.

We may justly claim Thanksgiving as an American institution because it was both a religious and social celebration set aside by civil authority. All former observances of special days had been appointed by the church.

Charles Stehly: "You're not staying in the same apartments now, Bob?"
Bob Brown: "No, I stayed there three months and found out they have no bathtub."

Husband: "Do you know anything about my wife's whereabouts?"
Maid: "Yes, sir; I put them in the wash."

Fullerton Hornets Plan To Smear Don Team

COACH FOOTE PRESENTED A FULL SEASON

on Basketball Team Slated To Play Long Beach J. C. In First Battle

Official announcement of the range Empire conference, formerly known as the Inland division, among the junior college shows that the Don team will have a full and hard schedule to play.

The schedule was given out at a business meeting held in Ontario, at which Dean McKee Fisk was Santa Ana's official representative. This was the main topic for discussion at the meeting, the next of which will be held at Citrus, January 25.

Coach Foote has scheduled several practice games to precede the regular league schedule which will open in January the ninth when the Don team play host to the Chaffey Panthers. This game may have a lot to do on the bearing that Santa Ana will have in its league standing, as Chaffey has always proved the favorite in her league, and this year will no exception.

Intersectional Game
Following the first scheduled practice game which is with Long Beach, December 19, Coach Bill Foote will play an early season game with the junior college of Arizona. The game is to be played here and is scheduled for January 6. U. S. C. freshmen will play the Don team on January 23, according to present plans. Many of the town teams want to play the Padres, but Coach Foote has not made any definite arrangements with them at the present.

Prospects Bright
This year the prospective candidates look better than ever before. Though only two lettermen are remaining Coach Foote will have an array of stars from other junior colleges and high schools. The returning lettermen are Emmett Seacord and Ellwood Lindley, while such men as Hideo Higashi, Jimmie Hall, Maxon Stull, will be among those that came from last year's Saint team. Tustin will be re-

Coach Cook Forecasts Close Battle With Fullerton

"I don't want to imply that the team has been holding back in past games, but I do feel that the boys have a good game of football left in their system and I expect to see it displayed against Fullerton.

The boys will be out there showing more fight than they ever have in the past, probably due to the fact that Captain Santa Cruz will be leading many of the players into action for the Don institution for the last time.

We are rated the underdog, according to past performances but I hope that we can take the field on even terms."—Coach Bill Cook.

GAME TOMORROW WILL FIND YELLOWJACKETS FAVORED OVER DONS IN FINAL GAME

Coach Bill Cook Has Team Pointed For Yearly Battle With Fullerton. Aerial Attack Sure To Appear If Running Plays Are Stopped

Hoping to win their last game of strength of both teams may prove the deciding factor in the game. Both squads were hard hit when Doyle Gilbert and Fred West, quarterbacks of the Don and Hornet teams respectively were lost for the game. Gilbert received a badly bruised bone in his left foot that has failed to respond to medical treatment, and will in all probability be kept on the bench during the majority of the game.

Fred West, has been the only dependable reserve quarterback that Coach Nunn has had all season. He is a veteran from last year's team and has been a dangerous threat all season. He left school last Monday to take an automobile trip to Ohio. As well as being a good understudy at quarterback he was able to play either halfback position equally as good.

Hornets Have Class
The Fullerton team without a doubt has a little more class than the Dons have shown this year but are not as strong as the local team when the Cookmen are functioning properly. Although the Yellowjackets were beaten by Long Beach by the score of 12 to 7, while the Dons held them to a scoreless tie, the Fullerton backs made more first downs than did the Viking ballpackers. Fullerton rang up 13 first downs against Long Beach's 8. They also made a total gain of 267 yards against 211 for the Vikings.

Passes May Decide
If the running attack of both teams should be stopped, the game may be decided by a passing barrage that is sure to show up as both teams have at least two good passing combinations. In the game with the Long Beach Vikings the Hornets threw 69 passes and completed 29 of them for an average completion of 6 out of every 14. They have three men who are experts on the receiving end of the tosses. McCormick, Wallace and Carroll will probably keep the Don backfield men on their toes if Captain Pickens, of the Hornets hasn't lost any of his form when it comes to tossing the pigskin around the gridiron.

Higashi and Meisinger
Coach Bill Cook has not definitely decided to use Higashi at end, but in all probability the starting lineup will find him holding down one of the wing posts. If this should happen the Cookmen will present a pair of pass-receiving ends that will be equal to the powerful Fullerton combination that has been the source of most of their victories in the past.

Reserves May Decide
Although both coaches plan to start their strongest eleven, the reserve

Captain Santa Cruz Has Confidence In His Team Mates

Tomorrow many of the boys are playing their last game, and I know that they have the heart and determination to win the game if they give everything that they are capable of giving.

Although we have not been a wonder team this year, I do feel that Bill Cook has done a great deal considering the injuries and various set backs that have occurred to many of the players. Every year our game with Fullerton is the hardest fought battle of the year, but it is always cleanly played and we respect that kind of rivalry.

This year they have one of the best teams in their history, and are coming over here determined to whip us. We'll let them come. I think that we will have a hot reception for them.—Captain Mike Santa Cruz.

DON LETTERS DEPEND UPON LAST BATTLE

Fifteen Men Are Assured Of Numerals Due To Past Performance

Although Santa Ana has not had a championship team this year a larger number of men will receive letters than in the past. Providing that several members of the team "come through" in the Fullerton game, Coach Bill Cook will give out 21 numerals.

The six men who will get their letters providing they play in the coming game with Fullerton, are Paul Jungkeit, guard; Joe Crafts, quarter; Laurence Rossiter, guard; Fred Brooks, end; Horace Rittner, tackle; and George Berry, end. Several of these men have lost time due to injuries received in the early part of the season.

Coach Cook Harry Clayton has received the distinction of playing in all the league games to date without losing any time. This is a remarkable record for any player and should further his bid for all conference tackle.

Fifteen men have already played enough time in league games to warrant them letters, and six other players or on the line, between having the required number of minutes by a very small fraction.

The men that have already won their letters are Captain Mike Santa Cruz, tackle; Wayne Bartholomew, center; Gib Meisinger, guard; Paul Bruce, center; Doyle Gilbert, quarter; Solon Beall, end; Lucius Conkey, tackle; Dante Siracusa, quarter; Hideo Higashi, quarter; David Maxwell, halfback; Ervin Watkins, halfback; Emmett Seacord, fullback; Jimmie Hall, halfback; Harry Clayton, tackle; and Gil Kluthe, guard.

Other men who have played in all 20 conference quarters thus far this season are Jim Hall and Hideo Higashi, both members of the Don backfield.

He: "Why do you prefer blondes?"
She: "Cause I'm tired of black heads."

Don Quarter Will Be Siracusa Or Crafts

The selection of the plays for the Don team will be left up to either Dante Siracusa or Joe Crafts, according to Coach Bill Cook. Cook had planned on having Doyle Gilbert at the signal calling position but he will be unable to play due to an injury received during the game with Los Angeles last week.

Exactly which one of the men will start at quarter will not be decided until the team takes the field. Siracusa has received the call the majority of the games in the past, but may not be in the best of physical condition because of the hard game he was forced to play against Los Angeles. He had several minor injuries but will be able to play tomorrow. Joe Crafts' work in the passing department of the game has greatly pleased Cook during the last few weeks and would prove a triple threat man should he start the game.

There is a small possibility that Higashi may call the signals if he plays in the backfield instead of the line. Captain Pickens will call the plays for the Hornets as he has done in the past.

Yos-Yo's may come and Yos-Yo's may go, but handball goes on forever. This year there have been more students playing the game than ever before. At the present the El Don sports department is conducting a tournament to find a champion. The contest is open to both faculty and students, and several of the faculty members are among the favored players. Coach Bill Cook, Coach Patton, and Coach Bill Foote are supporting Sheldon Hayden in representing the faculty. Don't be surprised if you see Mr. Neeley and Mr. Beeman out there in shorts playing for the dear Old Faculty. You know how the faculty hates to see the Youth win over the faculty in any kind of argument.

Several members of the Don football team were standing on the sidelines watching the Saints defeat Alhambra last Saturday. It seems too bad but some of them forgot that they came to see a game, and not just sit and smoke on the sidelines; but that's what some of them did. Maybe they were getting all hot and bothered about the Fullerton game, but they had better stay home and do it. Especially after Coach Cook issued orders to the contrary.

Club Presidents Meet For Second Time In "Y" Hut

College Plans Broadcasts Over Register KREG

Through the courtesy of the Santa Ana Daily Register, Santa Ana junior college have been invited to join the American Red Cross Senior Life saving class.

The class meets in the junior college swimming pool on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of each week at 3:10 p. m.

The instructor will teach all the fundamentals of life saving, and the students will learn something that will be of help in later life. All universities are offering the course, but as they do not offer credit for the work, Santa Ana junior college can not do so.

Parking Situation

After considerable discussion, the Brotherhood of Bachelors, represented by Grand Exalted Tom Cone, and the Junior Lions, represented by Cub President Jim Thompson, volunteered to study the parking situation. Cone will have charge of marking off the space near the bungalows on Parton, while Thompson has been appointed to search for other places, and may secure a vacant lot adjoining the campus.

McKee Fisk, dean of the college, reported that the faculty has been seriously considering the elimination of assemblies because of the lack of interest which students have been showing. Lewis Bates, commissioner of forensics and general assembly chairman, announced that the assembly schedule until the holidays was filled and that several enjoyable programs have been slated.

The question of how many major offices should a student be allowed to hold was brought before the group, and after a heated discussion, led by Glover Hendrickson, president of the Press club, and Jac Crawford, president of the Y.M.C.A., it was generally agreed that no limit should be that each president should bring "home" to his members that the non-making every move possible to assure Las Gitanas the backing of the Associated Students. Tickets are being sold by the club members this week for 50 cents each. George Griffith, students' president, in commenting upon the event, said, "Every student knows that there are many in college this year who are absolutely in need of financial support. A large number of these students find it possible to attend school only through the help of the student loan fund. Las Gitanas club is to be congratulated on its initiative in sponsoring an event which will combine a social activity and a financial drive in one. Members of this service club have worked hard in preparation for the benefit and in view of the worthy cause to which the proceeds will be given, every student should feel it his duty to buy a ticket college students are especially invited, parents and friends are welcome, it was announced.

Miss Bishop is in charge of general arrangements for the benefit. Other committee chairmen are Evelyn Fairley, decorations; Bernadine Bastian, prizes; Lucile Reich, and Jennie Lind Mahoney, refreshments; Betty Vorce, cleanup and Lois Read, tickets. The party is one of a series of events to renew the loan fund, since funds are very low and must be replaced by subscription and benefit affairs.

Plans for the party were made at the last meeting of Las Gitanas, held at the home of Alberta Green, 507 West Walnut street. Committees were selected and the various phases of the benefit outlined by the president. Following a discussion concerning the purchase of club pins, a committee composed of Janice Black and Lois Read was appointed to work out a design. Refreshments of brown Betty topped with whipped cream, cocoa and fruit were served at the close of the meeting.

Hoenshell Announces Publication Of New Bulletin

Feeling a need for a special educational news bulletin, an editorial board with A. D. Hoenshell as chairman will present to the Santa Ana district a publication sometime in December, giving information about activities of the Santa Ana school system.

With every part of the school system represented in an issue approximately every month, the bulletin will explain the needs and activities of the city schools.

Such information is expected to benefit the junior college more than other educational institutions, because the general public knows very little about the junior college. All sorts of art courses, special events, and general news which affects school life will be included.

Many Students Are From Out Of Town

Of the 724 students now attending junior college, 352 come from homes outside of Santa Ana, according to a report made by Dr. Percy R. Davis, school superintendent, to the board of education. The increase in out-of-town students over last year is 143.

Since 37 of the non-resident pupils live out of Orange county, a check is being made to determine their place of legal residence in order to decide which junior college district shall assume the financial responsibility.

Orange county towns represented in Santa Ana junior college are Garden Grove 44, Anaheim 42, San Juan Capistrano 9, Orange 84, Huntington Beach 42, Tustin 63, and Newport Harbor 31.

Thompson Speaks At Gathering Of Engineers' Club

Organization Divided Into Five Major Groups

That the study of civil, geological, and hydraulic engineering is essential to a well constructed dam, and that there is no record of an earth or hydraulic filled dam that ever gave way under the tremors of an earthquake, were just two of the many things that the J.C. Engineers learned, according to Aldon Melzian, club president, from the talk given by M. N. Thompson, head of the Orange County Flood Control, at their meeting last week in room 253. His subject was "Flood Control and Dam Construction".

An important adjunct of the meeting was the dividing of the club into five major groups, namely: electrical, aeronautical, civil, chemical, and mechanical. It is through the group work that the individual projects will be handled, according to the Melzian. Each group has an adviser from the faculty.

Plans for the coming trip, over Thanksgiving, to Randsburg to visit the Yellow Aster and Kelly mines, were completed. There are approximately 15 students planning to make the trip. In all probability this number will be supplemented by members from the geology and mineralogy classes, says Melzian.

That the Engineers are doing everything in their power to more closely unite engineering associations in the junior colleges in California, as well as advertise their own college, was the substance of a report given by Glover Henderson, secretary of the organization. This work is being done through the affiliations committee.

Refreshments, provided by H.O. Russell, adviser, who also aided Mrs. Russell in serving, completed the meeting.

Teacher: "Which is correct, a herd of camels or a drove of camels?" Wilton H.: "I always thought they came in packs."

Elderly woman to prominent young Don in drug store: "Have you anything for grey hair?" P. Y. D.: "Only the greatest respect, madam."
